

APPENDIX X:

Regional Resource People

We anticipate that people that are new to the identification, collection and survey of dragonflies and damselflies will have many questions as they begin to participate in this project. The following individuals, all of whom are very knowledgeable with respect to this group of insects, have agreed to serve as volunteer regional resource people for specific areas of the state. Please feel free to contact the person nearest to you should you have any questions during the course of the project.
