OK Slip Falls Trail leaves the Whortleberry Pond Trail 0.5 miles from the trailhead. The two trails share and extend another 2.5 miles to two overlooks of OK Slip Falls: one of the highest waterfalls in the Adirondacks at 250 feet. The Hudson River Access Trail, at 0.75 mi, will take you to the shores of the river, but is a steep and strenuous hike.

Do not trespass on the private inholding - a summer boy’s camp. Be cautious of buses and other motor vehicles using the road during the summer - especially on weekends.
