SHELLFISH HARVESTER CERTIFICATION TRAINING

Requirement for Shellfish Digger Permits

Shellfish harvesters have a major role to play in keeping shellfish safe for consumers, helping to reduce the need for harvest area closures, and ensuring New York State maintains a reputation for safe and high-quality shellfish.

DEC has developed a new online shellfish harvester training to ensure all New York State shellfish harvesters are informed of current sanitary control measures in place for shellfish harvested and sold as food. DEC's Shellfish Harvester Certification Training is a requirement of the National Shellfish Sanitation Program (NSSP).

All new Shellfish Digger Permit applicants need to complete the new training prior to issuance of their 2024 shellfish digger permit. A 2024 permit will not be issued if you fail to complete the training prior to submitting your 2024 application.

Complete the Training Online

- Visit DEC's Shellfishing website: on.ny.gov/shellfish
- Follow the links for Shellfish Harvester Certification Training found under Commercial Shellfishing
 - Click on 'Get Started'
 - Review training information by clicking through items and scrolling to the bottom of the page
 - Click on the button at the bottom of the page to advance to next training module
- After the last training module, click on Harvester Training Education Exam at the bottom of the page
- Begin the short exam by entering the permit holder's information:
 - Name, email address, and permit number, if applicable → Click 'Next'
 - Select the best answer to the five multiple-choice questions → Click 'Submit'
- Certificate of Completion will be sent to the email you provided and forwarded to DEC for approval

 The online training can be completed from a smartphone, tablet, or computer using the latest versions of Google Chrome, Mozilla Firefox, Apple Safari, and Microsoft Edge (Internet Explorer is not supported).*

For questions about the training contact Shellfish Management at the information provided below.
